Very Impressed!

High quality sunglasses for a good price. They don't feel flimsy and weak like other popular brands. They feel sturdy. Very impressed. Even came with a nice note. They are pretty large so might be too big for people with smaller heads. I love the wood look on the side. Overall, great look, well crafted, handmade sunglasses that won't break the bank!

Wrong sunglasses sent

I paid for 1 day shipping since I was excited to get these based on the decent reviews. Well as you can see in the image attached what I received was nothing at all like the glasses advertised. Now I will have to deal with returning it.

Regarding the glasses that were sent to me, the lenses are quite small and I hope the lenses in the actual glasses being advertised are better, because these are not that high quality. Frame feels decently solid is the only positive feedback I can provide for these.

Trendy sunglasses for when I'm just trying to run out and get some brunch or stop by the supermarket without looking too dressed down. Some of my friends even think it's on the pricier end!

The sunglasses are surprisingly durable. It feels nice and compact in the hand and the plastic doesn't dominate the feel when you hold it or put them on. I got these sunglasses because the transition lenses on my glasses are not UV protected. Having a large head, it was nice to see that these sunglasses also had spring hinges.

Built well, nice frame and hinging, look as good as any expensive set, fits nice even with a lumpy side dome and crooked nose. The brand I will buy again in the future.
